

Sample Course Description

Faculty: Economic

Study program: Bachelor in Tourism

Course Title: English language

Course Credits: 6

Language of Instruction: English

Course Description: The teaching material offers the opportunity to use student-centered approaches supporting their language and communication needs. This material promotes the participation of students in learning and emphasizes the primary role of students in the acquisition of a foreign language, with the basic purpose of its practical use both for general purposes and for specific purposes related to the professional requirements of students and future specialists. For the efficient acquisition of this subject, the student must have a good command of the basic knowledge of the English language. Good grammatical and structural knowledge, rich vocabulary and correct pronunciation enable the student to use the English language as efficiently as possible.

Course Goals: The study of English in the first cycle of studies, the first year, aims to acquire linguistic and cultural knowledge. Through diverse topics, the student has the opportunity to gain new knowledge and also to put it into practice. The object of study of this subject is based on today's demand of the labor market for professionals with interdisciplinary knowledge, not only profiled in one field.

Course Requirements: The students need to participate at 75% of the course hours of the seminars. This is a 'firm' subject and is evaluated not with the final exam, but with the amount of assessments during the year.

Grading: The final grade is composed by:

Test 1: 25%

Test 2: 25%

Test 3: 25%

Test 4: 25%

Course Schedule: This course takes place in the first academic year. There are 2 hours of seminars per week during all academic year.

The Schedule of Activities is subject to change.
